PETALING JAYA: The Petaling Jaya City Council (MBPJ) has cleared the uprooted trees and earth which had partially blocked Jalan 5/60 opposite the Faber Towers Apartment Complex following last Friday's landslide in Bukit Gasing.

The landslide is the latest at the hill slope which had seen several similar incidents in the past. Residents in the area and councillor Derek Fernandez had expressed concern over the latest incident which occurred after a downpour.

The landslide brought down soil and uprooted trees below the Sivan Temple, leaving an exposed area as big as a football field.

MBPJ public relations officer Zainun Zakaria said the council had sent its contractor to remove the uprooted trees and mounds of soil on Saturday morning.

She said the council's engineering department would also be placing tarpaulin sheets as a temporary measure to avoid further slope erosion at the site.

"The tarpaulin sheets will be placed immediately to prevent further landslides," she said. The management of the Sivan Temple could not be reached for comment.
